

SLEEK AND SUBTLE

Left: Grey and aubergine glass sliding doors make a neat impression in this minimal living room. From £1,500, Sliderobes

WORK AND DISPLAY

Above: Are you tired of trying to work sitting on the sofa with the laptop balanced on your knees? Then why not convert a previously unused area under the stairs into a smart home study? Curved cabinets ensure that the furniture doesn't intrude so intrusively into the hallway. Understair storage, from £3,000, Neville Johnson

UPSCALE SOLUTION

Right: This super-sized dresser holds crockery, cutlery and much more. Blue Blaze sideboard/dresser, from £6,800, Cue & Co

CONTINUED OVER PAGE

ALL BOXED IN

Deep drawers under the stairs keep hallway clutter out of sight. Oak veneer boxes with painted drawer fronts, from £270 a drawer, Cue & Co

HELLO YELLOW!

Opposite top: Making use of the area above the doorway and under the window, this home office furniture exploits every opportunity for smart storage. Yellow Urbano, from £3,000, Neville Johnson

WHITE ON WHITE

Opposite bottom: Create a sense of space while packing in plenty of storage with this white high-gloss range. Elkin, in Frost (shown) or Cream, up to £2,500, based on a headboard, double-run wardrobe and two bedside chests, Hammonds

